  - If PI rep is unable to answer your question, they may offer to research and call back within 30 calendar days.
  - If Provider disagrees with dispute determination, they may request a second level dispute.
- The Claims Dispute Form must be submitted for disputes related to:
  - Code Review
  - Contract Terms
  - Coordination of Benefits
  - Duplicate Claim
- Providers can self-serve for remits/claims and benefits/eligibility
  - Provider Portal
  - External Benefit Repository

U.S. Family Health Plan

- We will review retrospective authorization requests for all qualified care, before or after claim submission.
- Providers who submit after claim submission must do so within 120 days from date of denial.
- Providers may submit a retrospective authorization request on our provider website. Determinations are made within 30 calendar days of receipt of request.

Generations Advantage

- We will not accept any retrospective authorization requests. If the service meets one of the three exception criteria for retrospective review, then the provider must submit this request with an authorization dispute form.
- Participating providers must file a claim for the authorization denial and then will have 120 days from that remit date of denial to submit a request on our provider website with supporting documents that meet the exception criteria.

Member Liability: Non-Covered Services

US Family Health Plan

- The beneficiary must have been informed in advance that the services are excluded/excludable, and agree in advance in writing to pay for the services
- We recommend using the approved Martin's Point Agreement to Financial Responsibility form.

Generations Advantage

- The plan issued an Integrated Denial Notice (IDN) for services that may not be covered.
- The beneficiary was informed services were excluded as indicated in the "exclusions" section of the EOC. If they agreed in advance to pay for the services, then this must be documented in the patient record and must be in compliance with the Martin's Point Generations Advantage Acknowledgement and Financial Responsibility Policy available on the provider website.
